Kito to Open Sales of RY Series Electric Wire Rope Hoist in North America

Industrial hoist and crane maker Kito Corporation (head office: Yamanashi, Japan; president: Yoshio Kito) will introduce its new RY Series Electric Wire Rope Hoists in North America in May.

For the North American launch, Kito won UL1340 certification, awarded only to top-class hoists in the US. Our concept is to provide high quality products at a competitive price.

Kito recently completed a three-center international production system, through which it works in close coordination with subsidiaries Harrington Hoists Inc. in the US and Jiangyin Kito in China. Making the most of the wide sales network of Harrington, which is handling final assembly and shipment, Kito hopes to further build its share of the North American market.

Features of the RY Series Wire Rope Hoists

-Original dual speed variable-frequency drive control is standard

The system helps minimize load swing.

- Pull-rotor motor brake for maximum safety

High braking force securely holds the load.

- No load high speed function

Operates at 1.5 times the rated speed with a load less than 25% of rated capacity.

In the US, RY Series Electric Wire Rope Hoists are sold under the Harrington brand for higher name recognition.

Release date
